Eagles' Football Injuries Studied In School Survey

Canyon schools Athletic Director W. V. McAlpin, concerned over the number of injuries suffered by high school football players this season, has completed a survey of the players to determine the extent of the injury problem.

The survey, along with conferences with high school coaches, apparently took the place of more formalized investigation into the injury problem.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs said this week he will not follow the pattern laid by Amarillo's school board recently in appointing a special committee to look into football injuries.

He said McAlpin and the high school football coaches have been "looking into it to try to see any reason they can think of that might eliminate some injuries."

The varsity Canyon Eagles suffered a number of serious injuries during season play which ended recently. Most serious was the injury of Kelly Forehand, who suffered a broken neck during the Caprock-Eagle game early in the season. But, several other players missed a portion of the season due to knee and ankle injuries and other mishaps. Head Coach Ron Mills has said the 1974 Eagles suffered more injuries than any team he's ever coached.

McAlpin said he called together all high school football players last week and asked them to fill out survey forms concerning injuries. While the forms have been returned, McAlpin said he has not yet compiled all the data.

The forms asked each player to list the number and kinds of injuries he'd received this year and in other years of playing football; to list how many school days or hours he'd missed to take care of injuries; the number of years he'd played football; and the most serious injury he'd had in the past and during this season.

"A lot of them had never been injured at all," McAlpin said.

The athletic director said he is most interested in the data concerning school time missed due to injuries.

"It's not going to be very high," he predicted.

McAlpin said he and the high school coaches have also gone over the year's injuries to determine why and how each happened. From reviews of game films, he said, many of the defensive linemen injured were hurt while in the down position and the injuries were largely the result of legal blocks or clips.

He termed the Forehand injury "an accident.

"I wish it hadn't happened but I consider it an accident," he said.

He said his meetings with coaches have satisfied him the football program at CHS is not to blame for the injuries.

"I'd like to eliminate them if there was some way we could," he said.

Canyon school board members discussed the injury problem in their last meeting after Mrs. Anna Grimes, mother of two

DA Offices Consolidation Eyed By Legal Community

With the possibility that one of the two district attornies serving the Potter-Randall County area might be selected to serve on the bench of the 181st District Court, The News learned this week of discussions in the area legal community which might lead to consolidation of the two criminal districts for prosecution of cases.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen confirmed last week he has been indirectly informed he's being considered by Gov. Dolph Briscoe for the court seat to be vacated Jan. 1, 1975 by Judge Don Dean. Potter County Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis is also seeking the post.

A reliable source told The News the possibility of combining the districts now served by Curtis and Dowlen was discussed at length by Amarillo area trial lawyers last week in Amarillo, predicated by the possibility one of the district attorneys might be appointed to the bench.

A consolidation of the two districts would mean formation of one criminal district encompassing Potter, Randall and Armstrong counties.

"I don't think it would be practical," Dowlen said of the proposition, "because the people in Randall County back in 1956 decided they would be best served by having a separate and distinct prosecution office from Potter County. Until that time Randall County had been in the same judicial district as Potter County and Armstrong County.

"For that reason, the legislature enacted legislation at the request of Randall County's commissioners and citizens of Randall County severing the ties and creating the criminal district."

Dowlen said the arrangement seems to have worked well over the years.

"From what I can tell the people in Randall County are happy with the system the way it is," he said.

Nevertheless, Dowlen said there are some advantages to the idea of consolidating the two districts.

He pointed out that many criminals commit crimes in both counties, many times as part of the same criminal episode and their prosecution would be expedited if they were handled in

Status Quo Is Best Here, Sup't. Says Of Tax Plans

The status quo is still okay with School Supt. Jerry Jacobs even after he heard Tuesday night a sales promotion that wasn't supposed to be a sales promotion for Gov. Dolph Briscoe's school finance package.

"The formula we're using now probably treats us as well as we can be treated," Jacobs said after hearing a presentation on Briscoe's proposal in Amarillo.

He said the Briscoe plan will cost Canyon School District taxpayers more money. But, he said, that's true of every plan presented so far to straighten out the school financing quagmire in Texas. Texas legislators are expected to consider as few as five bills next spring altering the method of financing public schools in the state.

"I don't think they can derive a method, but what it's going to cost us money," Jacobs said.

The current formulas used to figure how much funding will go into Canyon's schools from the state and from the district's taxpayers were worked out in 1949.

Dr. Ben Dowd, a long-time educator who's been working in the Governor's office for a year on a proposed financial package, presented the proposal for school board members in Amarillo Tuesday night. All Canyon board members attended the session.

Dowd said the proposal is based on a gubernatorial mandate that it must provide equity for students and equity for taxpayers.

The plan embraces the concept of using the "weighted pupil approach" to school financing, a plan used in five other states.

This approach would be incorporated into a formula to figure how much state funding would be sent local school districts.

It works this way: A student's class schedule is examined to determine how much of his class time is spent in regular classes and how much is spent in classes like speech therapy, learning disabilities or vocational courses — courses which cost more money to provide. The percentage of his time spent in each type of course is multiplied by a figure weighted to allow for fund requirements of each course.

For example, regular classes in grades kindergarten through the third are weighted at a 1.00 level. Vocational courses are given weights at three to four times that 1.00 level.

The basic funding will be $650 per student for regular classes, but that basic amount will be multiplied by the course schedule and the weights to come up with a figure per student for state funding.

The program will be financed based on the current ad valorem tax concept, but agricultural land will not be taxed on an ad valorem basis. The test for agricultural land will be productivity, but Dowd declined to speculate on how that productivity would be measured, if the legislation passes.

Each school district, he said, would be required to produce taxes for their schools equivalent or better than the average tax effort being made in all school districts.

Wealthier districts, he said,

County Eyes Problems In Car Tax

County commissioners Monday instructed Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, to determine whether the taxing of automobiles in the county is worth the effort.

The instruction came following a presentation by Mrs. Bruse of the 1973 tax roll and list of delinquent taxpayers, which indicated that 41.9 per cent of the delinquent roll is for unpaid auto taxes.

"I question whether we make anything on the automobile tax," Commissioner Paul Lindsey told the tax collector. "I wish there was some way we could figure to eliminate that entirely. I sure think it's a losing proposition."

Following the meeting, Mrs. Bruse said she will run a study to figure how much it costs the county to collect taxes on automobiles and how much return the county receives from

HUD Grant Could Mean $760,000 If City Is Eligible For Funding

Canyon could receive as much as $760,000 over a six-year period through a federal grant program now being eyed by city officials.

"Without question, we'll put together an application" for the grant, City Manager George Loudder said this week.

"I don't know how much we'll ask for right now," he said. "We have received information that as much as $760,000 over six years is available."

The grant, made available to cities and towns through the Department of Housing and Urban Development, has been studied by Loudder for several weeks. The City of Amarillo recently received a multi-million dollar grant through the same agency for various projects in that city.

Loudder only recently received detailed guidelines on the grant and has met with officials at the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to discuss the possibility of obtaining funds for Canyon.

Administrative Assistant Tom Plumlee spent a good part of the first days of this week going over the guidelines.

Loudder said specific information must be compiled about the grant before city commissioners are presented the program in formal session and before a grant application is formally made.

He stressed that even though Canyon might apply for the funds, there is no assurance the funding will be allocated to the city.

The problem could be one of relative affluence.

Loudder has said the program provides funding on several criteria and Canyon meets only two of six of those standards. Most of the criteria relate to the number of unemployed, welfare recipients or minority groups living within an applicant city and priority is apparently given to cities which meet the bulk of the criteria.

For Canyon, seat of a county which in 1970 ranked near the top among Texas counties in per capita income, educational level and lack of minority population, the criteria may be tough to meet.

If funding is made available through the grant, Loudder has said the city must receive widespread citizen input on how the funds will be spent. He has yet to outline specific programs he'd like to see implemented if funding is available.

Amarillo has been sponsoring a series of town-hall meetings in various parts of that city to determine uses for the grant money.

Federal Law A Snafu For WTSU

Curious about the height and classification of a favorite West Texas State University basketball player?

Want to look up the telephone number or address of a student friend?

A newly-passed federal law to take effect in January, taken to its logical yet absurd ends, could be construed to prohibit that kind of information about students — and more.

The so-called Buckley Amendment, the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, passed through Congress recently and could spell a bushel-full of trouble for WTSU officials who must comply with the legislation or face a cut-off of federal funding.

Miss Karen Johnson, attorney for the university, said this week the law, rather than clarifying a university's responsibility in allowing students to peruse their own records or make those records available to outside interests, muddies the water and leaves WTSU officials in a no-man's land of uncertainty.

Originally, she said, the law was intended only to apply to primary and secondary schools, but the bill's sponsor, Sen. James Buckley of New York, "added higher education as an afterthought — and that's just what it looks like."

The law provides the following:

"Students shall be allowed to inspect and review any and all official records, files and other data directly related to him, including all materials incorporated into each student's cumulative record folder, any identifying data, academic work completed,

Drillers Regulating Themselves

Bore-hole Issue Buried, Problems Remain

More than a year ago, a hydrology expert warned that persistent use of bore-hole type cesspools for sewage disposal could lead to pollution of underground water in Randall County.

Today, interest in the problem has sunk to the depths of the Santa Rosa formation. A year ago, county commissioners, then concerned about the possibility of pollution, attempted to deal with the situation but abruptly and without explanation dropped their enthusiasm.

Discussion of the problem has yet to be revived.

Complaints from property owners around new mobile home parks in the county spurred commissioner interest in 1973 to look into the problem of bore-hole type cesspools, which are deep holes drilled to various levels and filled with sewage.

A half dozen meetings with various state and local officials followed, but the problem was initially identified by Dr. Robert Winn, then a geology professor at West Texas State University.

Winn warned the commissioners that the use of bore-holes in the county could lead to pollution of underground water. He cited many cases involving the use of bore-holes particularly in mobile home parks for sewage disposal.

After hearing Winn, commissioners met with officials from the State Department of Health, the Texas Water Quality Board and also with representatives of area drilling firms.

They learned that the use of bore-holes for waste disposal was against state law, but that the law was by-and-large unenforced. They were told that they could regulate the drilling of bore-holes by requiring licensing.

But, commissioners opted to allow drillers to regulate their own industry and establish guidelines for the drilling of bore-holes in the county.

Winn offered to pursue a study of the severity of the bore-hole problem in the county and to identify measures to prevent underground water from being polluted.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Democrats in congress seem intent on kicking Wilbur Mills out of his place as chairman of the Ways and Means committee.

There have been hints that Wilbur has lost his mind. At this writing he is in the hospital suffering from exhaustion.

The Mills case reminds us of the Earl Long incident which kept Louisiana, of which he was governor at the time, in a turmoil for months.

Earl also took up with a burlesque queen and did the country. He had a private plane fly him all over his and neighboring states.

Ostensibly to avoid recognition but actually calling more attention to himself, he wore a pillow case with two eye slits over his head and once addressed the Louisiana legislature in the most vulgar terms while sipping bourbon from a soft drink bottle.

Still unexplained is how Mills, reportedly a man of modest means, came by the $1700 a night he was reported to have been spending on the Argentine stripper.

We wonder if the Democrats will go to work on that.

The fact that he is apparently a sick man shouldn't make any difference. It hasn't made any difference in their treatment of Richard Nixon. Nixon has been hounded on his sick bed, theoretically in national interest.

I would think the nation has some right to know how the man who has been the architect of the tax structure under which we all groan gets the money to spend on the Tidal Basin Bombshell.

Arkansans have enjoyed a reputation over the years of being barefoot, ignorant hillbillies. They certainly lived up to that reputation when they re-elected Wilbur.

Dory who provided a shirttail to hang onto for many a youngster would be happy to know that this is being done.

We sat here in my office Wednesday and Kozak, Leonard Gunderson and Tom Christian reminisced about Dory who was a great athlete who could also be a comedian when he wanted to.

Dory loved kids. He once drove to Lubbock and spent two hours at the hospital with a little boy who had expressed a wish to see the wrestler.

About youngsters he was dead serious and it is entirely fitting that a scholarship foundation be created to provide educational opportunity for youngsters.

Some four years ago this column began a fund to buy a television set for the elderly people who live at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home.

This year we'd like to see the readers of this column purchase a piano for the home. It would cost something like $1,000 and I think we could get someone to agree to keep it in shape.

It would last indefinitely and would provide music for church services and just for entertainment for the folks who live there.

Anyone wishing to contribute may mail checks to The Canyon News, or to either of the two banks in Canyon made out to LaCasa Canyon Piano Fund.

Decorating The Holiday Tree

'Tis the season — and with holiday traditions revolving around the sparkling beauty of a Christmas tree in every household — it is a time for all residents to remember that "fires" await those who are unwary of the rules and guidelines to observe in caring for a holiday tree and its tinsel.

Fire Marshall Jerry Lehnick noted this week that "whether you purchase your living tree the first of December or wait until Christmas Eve — it has been cut and drying out for the same length of time."

In selecting a tree residents should remember that trees from the mountainside should be cut at an angle one or two inches above the original cut and then placed in water to keep it fresh throughout the season. The new angled cut will allow the tree to absorb water — but remember that the heat from rooms will tend to dry out the trees rapidly — and a dry tree is a fire hazard (kindling in your living room you might say!).

The use of flame retardant flocking materials is "one of the best ways to make a Christmas tree safer," stated the Fire Marshall. "And when you light the tree the use of miniature bulbs is the best way — because the miniature bulbs don't generate as much heat.

"Of course one of the most important points to remember is to check all electrical wiring and connections and DO NOT OVERLOAD the circuits and extensions being used," cautioned Lehnick.

On artificial trees use only the miniature lighting as larger bulbs will melt the branches — and on the artificial aluminum trees use either a floodlight from above or below and never use electrical wiring on these trees, because a short circuit can make the entire tree the touch of electricity.

Candles on the tree or amid dry leaves in centerpieces are OUT as they are a definite fire hazard. Candles should only be used in non-flammable holders and should be kept away from other decorations and wrappings. Always place candles where they cannot be knocked down or blown over by a breeze.

A few points to remember in selecting the tree include: (1) check for color and scent as a fresh tree is deep green with a strong scent of pine, (2) be sure that needles do not readily fall from the tree, and (3) the trunk butt of a fresh tree should still be sticky with sap.

When taking the tree into your home remember to place the tree in a location away from fireplaces, radiators and other heat sources and be sure that it is out of the traffic pattern and not blocking exit doorways.

Check lights before placing on the tree being careful to discard any equipment that you deem unsafe and always turn off the lighting on a tree and other decorations when retiring or leaving the home.

And when Christmas morning comes take precautions in disposing of the wrappings. Wrappings should be deposited in a metal container and never burned in the fireplace as they may ignite suddenly causing a flash fire in the home.

Spend your Christmas safe and happy by taking a few simple precautions as the decorations come out to signal the season is ahead!

87 Speed Limits Lowered

As anticipated, Canyon city commissioners Monday night passed an ordinance lowering speed limits on U.S. 87 adjacent the West Texas State University campus.

The ordinance will become effective after a notice of the ordinance has been published twice in The Canyon News.

Speed limits will be lowered near the Fine Arts Building on the campus from 40 miles per hour to 30 miles per hour.

The commission action was in response to a letter written by WTSU art department faculty members concerning the dangers of highway traffic on the street. They cited a car-pedestrian accident which occurred two months ago.

Mayor Manly Bryan said that while it seems students and those crossing Canyon's busiest street "make no effort" to cross at lighted intersections, it is still better to lower the speed limit to offer some margin of protection.

City Manager George Loudder has also said the intersections controlled by traffic signal lights along 23rd will be given crosswalks in the future.

In other business Monday night, commissioners approved a request from Jim Sands, owner of Britain Studio here, to construct a modular type building at the current studio site. Sands' request had been tabled in earlier meetings for city officials to review existing fire zone codes for the city.

Sands will be allowed to construct the building in variance with the current code because of the location of his property. An ordinance will be passed allowing the project and to amend the current code ordinances.

Commissioners passed a resolution authorizing Loudder to prepare a grant application for $2865 worth of dictating equipment for the police department. The telephonic equipment will allow policemen to phone in reports for later transcription. The grant covers the entire cost of the equipment and will require no city matching funds.

They also agreed to meet with commissioners from Amarillo, Potter County and Randall County concerning the establishment of an emergency 911 telephone number system for the two-county area.

Although skeptical of the success of such a system, the commissioners agreed to discuss the costs of such a program.

Commissioners agreed to pay the fourth estimate — of $105,000 — on the construction of the new city hall building.

Regents To Meet Friday To Eye New Building

West Texas State University regents are expected to give the final go-ahead for another stage in the construction of a new fine arts building for the Canyon campus during a regular meeting set for Friday morning here.

WTSU officials have requested regent authorization for Wood & Associates, architects, to begin detail plans of the proposed facility.

Regents have already approved the sale of bonds of more than $1 million for construction of the building.

In a memo to regents in the agenda folder for Friday's meeting, officials note that funds currently available for construction total $4,018,000. Within two years, an additional $800,000 is to be available for the $4.1 million project.

Construction will hopefully begin on the building next spring.

Regents are scheduled to consider action on several other items, including approval of new options in agriculture offerings. Proposals call for options in the agriculture major for agriculture communications, general agriculture, mechanical agriculture, and wildlife science.

A new option in mass communications-electronic media for the existing bachelors level degree in speech is also proposed for adoption by the regents.

Regents will consider approval of a library science certification endorsement for the college of education.

A name change for the department of health and physical education will also be considered. Proposed new name would be department of health, physical education and recreation. The change would reflect recent state approval of a recreation major in the department.

Regents will be brought up to date on a study being conducted to consider the feasibility of adopting a cooperative education program for the university which would allow students to mix work with class study in pursuit of a degree. Plans now call for a detailed study of the proposal with funds provided through the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Regents are to consider an application for HEW funds totalling $773,000 for the federal financial aids program for students during the next year. Funds totalling $719,000 were expended for financial aids in the 1973-74 school year.

Regents will be brought up to date on the university enrollment as of the 12th class day. Head count enrollment totalled 6645 while full time equivalent enrollment — that for which the university is funded — was 5305. The figures reflect a loss of about 100 students this fall compared to fall 1973.

Friday's meeting will be the last meeting for Regent Kent Hance of Lubbock, recently elected to the state senate. A replacement will be appointed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Canyon's Assistant Police Chief Tom D. Rolen was among the 35 officers from across the state who completed a two-week Texas Crime Prevention Institute Course recently in San Marcos.

The institute is funded through a grant from the Criminal Justice Division of the state Governor's Office. It is conducted under the auspices of the Southwest Texas State University Law Enforcement Department.

Basic crime prevention history, theory and practice is covered in the program. The class that ended recently with the presentation of certificates of completion is the second of three being conducted in San Marcos this fall.

Jobs Needed For City Vets

Many new service veterans are coming into Canyon now to enroll at West Texas State University for the next term, but they're having trouble finding jobs, the WTSU veterans representative said this week.

John Curry said he's been able to locate jobs for only a small number of veterans who were recently released from active military duty and are ready to begin college programs.

"They're interested in part-time work," he said. "They'd be happy with just odd jobs."

Curry said jobs in Canyon are scarce.

"At the first of the year there were some jobs, but everything is pretty well booked up now," he said.

Those interested in hiring a veteran should contact Curry at 656-3601. His office is in the administration building on campus.

Band, Art Fraternity Stage Sales This Week

Christmas shoppers seeking the new and unusual may find what they're seeking at two sales, one sponsored by the West Texas State University Marching Band; the other by the WTSU Art Fraternity, both scheduled this week end in the WT activities center.

The Marching Band is staging a "Gigantic Sale" beginning at 9 a.m. Friday in the Activities Center and continuing all day Saturday. According to a Marching Band spokesman the sale is a "garage sale on a magnificent scale," with members of the Marching Band pitching in items of all kinds, ranging from clothing to furniture.

Scheduled also for Saturday is the annual Kappa Pi Art Festival. Art work in all media by WTSU artists will be displayed and sold at the festival.

Also, paintings by WTSU faculty members will be on auction at the festival, a spokesman said.

Proceeds from the Gigantic Sale will go toward financing the Marching Band trip to California, said Dr. Gary Garner, director of bands.

Profits from the Kappa Pi Art Festival will be used in providing scholarships for outstanding students in the WTSU art department.

Society Selling Baked Goods Here

Pi Omega Pi, a scholastic honor society of students in business education, will be holding a bake sale Saturday, Dec. 7, at Ideal Grocery in Canyon from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Proceeds from the bake sale are to be used by the group for sending two members of Pi Omega Pi from the Delta Kappa chapter at West Texas State University to the national convention in New Orleans, La., during late December.

Chapter members must have completed 45 semester hours of college work with 15 hours in business and education subjects and must be maintaining a 2.0 average in business and education subjects and a 1.5 average overall.

NOTICE AFFORDING OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC HEARING CORRIDOR (LOCATION) AND DESIGN (COMBINED HEARING)

The Texas Highway Department is planning the construction of F.M. Highway 3331 in Randall County, from F.M. Highway 1541, 1.0 Mile North of State Highway 217, West to U.S. Highway 60 and 87.

This project is for construction of two 12 foot traffic lanes with 6 foot paved shoulders on 120 feet of right of way. The facility will follow the alignment of the existing county road east of the A.T. and S.F. Railroad. The facility will underpass the railroad and be extended west on new location to U.S. Highway 60 and 87. There will be no displacements of families, businesses or persons for the proposed project.

Maps and other drawings showing the proposed location and geometric design, environmental studies and any other available information about the proposed project are on file and available for inspection and copying at the Resident Engineer's Office at U.S. 60 West (P.O. Box 698) Canyon, Texas, 79015, Telephone: (806)655-4401. Also, the drawings showing the proposed geometric design have been placed on file with Randall County.

Information about the State's Relocation Assistance Program, the benefits and services for displacees and the relocation assistance office, as well as information about the tentative schedules for acquisition of right of way and construction can be obtained at the Resident Engineer's Office.

Any interested citizen may request that a public hearing be held covering the social, economic and environmental effects of the proposed location and design for this highway project by delivering a written request to the Resident Engineer's Office on or before December 26, 1974.

In the event such a request is received, a public hearing will be scheduled and adequate notice will be publicized about the date and location of the hearing.

"However," he said, "I doubt that this would outweigh the feeling the people in Randall County would have that they were happy to have a criminal district attorney just for Randall County."

Curtis said he's "not a great advocate" of the idea, but he does see some advantages.

"It probably makes sense from a governmental viewpoint as far as efficient use of manpower," he said. "Two district judges now include Potter and Randall counties in their districts and I don't see any more reason to have separate district attornies than separate district judges."

Curtis termed the idea one "which probably bears exploration."

But, he said "I don't have any imperialistic designs on Randall County. It seems to me it would be hard to argue against on the basis of efficiency."

players, called for a full investigation of the football program here.

She cited the Forehand injury and other serious injuries not only in Canyon but in other parts of the state and nation and called for changes in rules and equipment to make the game safer.

Results of the McAlpin survey will be made available later.

Ag History Now Offered

For the first time West Texas State University is offering a course in agriculture history in the History Department.

Dr. Garry Nall, instructor for the course, will cover farming of the colonial era through the agribusiness development of today.

"We will start with the movement from Europe to America and how the farmers acquired the land," Nall said. "Then the movement across the mountains to Mississippi River and on out into the plains and far West will be studied. Movement into these areas in the late 19th century caused the evolution of the great producing areas of the corn belt and wheat belt."

Some time will be spent on the study of European crops and those acquired from the Indians, he continued, and how some became subsistence crops.

"Change in technology which bettered the plow, introduction of the grain drill, reaper and thrasher, and different uses of animals added greatly to agriculture history," Nall said.

He will also discuss how government involvement in agriculture, scientific changes in breeding of livestock, and the industrial revolution added to the history of agriculture.

"As a special project for the course, the students will help gather the information of today for use in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum that may be of historical value in the future," Nall said.

"Today's agriculture student can learn from the past to help him make decisions in the future," he concluded.

level of achievement, attendance data, scores on standardized intelligence tests, aptitude tests, psychological tests, health data, family background information, teacher or counselor ratings and observations and verified reports of serious or recurrent behavior patterns.

The students shall have the right to a hearing to challenge the content of their records "to insure that the records are not inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of the privacy or other rights of students, and to provide an opportunity for the correction or deletion of any such inaccurate, misleading or otherwise inappropriate data contained therein."

Students must give their written consent before personally identifiable records or files can be released to any individual, agency or organization.

All persons desiring access to the records of a student shall be required to sign a written form which shall be kept permanently in the student's file, indicating specifically the legitimate educational or other interest that each person, agency or organization has in seeking the information.

The law, Miss Johnson feels, was promulgated in some ignorance of what most of the nation's college and universities were doing in the realm of students records. She said WTSU and many other colleges had policies prohibiting opening student records to third parties.

For the students, the law may cause some problems, Miss Johnson said because in the past the university has been able to protect a student to a certain extent.

She cited, for example, the hypothetical case of a college freshman who finds himself in a mild disciplinary problem. Action taken by the university is entered on his record.

If that student should be applying for a job, for example, during his senior year and wants his potential employer to examine his academic and student files, the employer will see the record of the disciplinary action, even though it occurred several years before.

Likewise, a student might be hesitant to release any of his personal data to outside sources if he knew that results of psychological tests or other behavioral data would be turned over to the source when approval was given by the student.

Since the law requires that students give their consent before "identifiable information" about them is released to outside agencies or persons, Miss Johnson sees some potential problems.

"It could go so far that we might not be able to put the height and weight of a basketball player on the program," she said.

The law could also affect the future of the student directory and the student yearbook at the university, both of which use "identifiable information."

"At this time we don't know how it will effect the directory and the annual," Miss Johnson said. "We'll have to wait and see how the guidelines are set."

For professors, the law means they will no longer be able to submit recommendations for students for filing in their records without giving up the confidentiality they had before the law.

WTSU, for example, requires that entering graduate students have three letters of recommendation from former teachers. Now, these records would be open at student request.

Miss Johnson said she's currently taking a wait-and-see stance on the law, hoping that guidelines will be prepared federally or that Buckley will clean up the law and eliminate some of the generalities.

Barring that, she said, the university must prepare forms for students to give written consent to have their records opened and the university must set up a committee for the hearings to which a student is allowed if he wants one.

"This is really not protecting the student," Miss Johnson said. "It's leaving him wide open."

Santa Seeking More Letters

Santa Claus told The News this week that even though it seems early for youngsters to be thinking about Christmas, they should mail their letters to him early to ensure timely delivery.

Letters should be sent to The Canyon News, Box 779, Canyon, Texas 79015.

The letters will be published in this year's big Christmas edition.

Girlstown Project Talked By Ladies

By MILDRED TURNER

THE PALISADES LADIES recently had a luncheon at Furr's Cafeteria, and while eating they discussed a proposed project of helping Girlstown. It was decided that the ladies would fix up some lovely hanging plants, potted plants, sheets, canned goods and books of stamps to cheer the girls up between now and Christmas.

Some of the ladies have gone over, talked to the people running the homes, getting a picture of the situation. I realize we need to help others when we can so let's all respond with a lot of help.

If any other groups or clubs wish to help in this project we will be happy for you to call president Estelle Atkerson (622-0190) and we will add your club's name as donors.

After lunch and the brief business session, the ladies went out to Las Tiendas where they shopped and browsed around having a delightful time together.

Those attending were Reba Guess, Becky Guess, Marcella Carlile, Lena Edwards, Pearl Vaughn, Stacy Penny, Clesta Robertson, Estelle Atkerson, Judy Detten and her mother-in-law.

THE PALISADES CHURCH recently had a lovely covered dish luncheon after church followed by a full hour of beautiful soul inspiring songs, music and testamonies by a group called "New Life." According to Beverly Strecker, "It was great."

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT about 15 of our young people came out to play table games and be with Steve Skidmore who had to return to Colorado where he attends a military academy.

Peggy and Floyd Oliver played Mexican dominoes with Garland and I in the kitchen as the den was full of young people. Janet and Sheree served hot buttered popcorn, cookies, hot spiced tea, and cokes. I wanted the kids to make music and sing but they mostly got carried away making up silly songs. You know how kids are!

THE VAUGHNS HAD Thanksgiving dinner with the Robertsons but their son Jimmy, and wife Rhonda, with their little Julie and Nathan, came in in the afternoon; staying until Saturday.

LUM AND LENA Edwards' guests for Thanksgiving were Gay and Jason Taylor, Cynthia and Cody Halford, Judy and Royce Phillips and Shelly, all of Amarillo. Also Edgar Pearson, formerly of the Palisades.

ONNIE AND ESTELLE Atkerson's home was the setting for a family reunion last Sunday with 54 relatives and four visitors trooping in. All the McCarter boys were there except Ray of Pampa.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon McCarter and daughter Mary Ruth Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCarter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCarter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll McCarter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman McCarter and family, Willie Huskey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mailer (Juanita), and nieces and nephews galore.

There was a lot of chatting and catching up on visiting, eating,

Buffs To Test Southwestern Today

West Texas State University's Buffaloes, with a 1-0 record after downing Panhandle State last weekend, take on their second season foe at 7:30 p.m. today in the Amarillo civic center coliseum.

Opening its season with an easy 89-69 win last weekend over the Pan-Aggies, the Buffs will hit the courts tonight against the Southwestern Golden Pirates, a Big State Conference team with a 3-4 season record.

Coach Ron Ekker will be looking for another win to help even out his WTSU won-loss record which now stands at 12-15. Ekker is in his second season with the Buffaloes.

In tonight's game, the Buffs will be eyeing the Pirate press, as described by assistant coach Rick Starzecki, who recently scouted the team in play against Cameron State.

While the Pirates lost that one by a 84-73 margin, Southwestern forced Cameron into 29 turnovers.

"What concerns me is their press," Ekker says. "They use a man-to-man and two different types of zone presses. They play aggressively and they come at you hard."

The Buffs have something in their corner, too, though, in big Reggie Ramey, a 6-8 junior center from Philadelphia, Pa.

Ramey scored 16 points in the season opener against Panhandle State to move to 14th place on WTSU's career scoring list. His point total is now 842 in 49 games for a 17.1 average. Ramey is now just seven points shy of Dale Blaut's 849 total and 12 shy of Jim Cursinger's 854. Only three men in West Texas history have a better scoring average than Ramey — Simmie Hill with 25.3, Mike Mitchell with 18.4, and Steve Davidson with 19.9.

Good balance also aided the Buffs in their win over Panhandle. Five Buffs scored in double figures as WT hit on 53.8 per cent of its shots from the field. Howard Taylor had 15, Maurice Cheeks had 14, Eugene Smith 13 and Joe Cosey 11 to round out the double digit scoring.

Ramey and Smith had eight rebounds apiece to lead in that category.

"We played pretty good offensively," Ekker said of last Saturday night's opener. "I thought our half court and break were effective. We scored between 20 and 30 points on the break alone and that helped a lot. I wasn't real pleased with our defense, although it came out all right. We weren't aggressive enough on defense."

Ekker has found reason to be proud of his bench squad, too.

Two prize freshmen from Chicago's DuSable High School, William Dise and Maurice Cheeks, have provided an extra spark to the Buffs in their first games of the season. Dise came off the bench to score 11 in the 69-68 exhibition win over the Brazilian National Team, and Cheeks pumped in 14 against Panhandle State.

The Buffs' December schedule gets busy next week with three home games set. Nationally-ranked Houston comes to Amarillo for a Monday night game. Then, the Buffs take on Adams State on Thursday and St. Cloud on Saturday.

Speeding Tickets Remain Stable

Randall County drivers are either driving within the 55 miles per hour speed limit, or they're just not getting caught as they speed, according to figures in the offices of the justices of the peace.

A release from the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety issued last week indicates Texas drivers are not heeding the speed limit signs posted on state highways. The release notes an increase in traffic citations given motorists.

According to records in the offices of W. A. Wilson and W. W. Hancock, the county's two justices of the peace, traffic citations are remaining stable in the county.

Wilson said traffic citations issued from July 1 to Oct. 31 this year have totalled 524 as compared to 506 issued for the same period in 1973.

But, the justice noted that citations issued to truck drivers for disobeying the speed laws have risen "by 100 per cent."

The figures do not jive with figures for state-wide citations, according to Mim Arnold, administrator of the office of traffic safety.

He cites Department of Public Safety statistics which indicate a total of 78,295 arrests were made for speeding during the three summer months of 1973. However, there were 188,876 arrests during June, July and August of 1974.

WT Scholarship Given Student

West Texas State University junior Diana Zinser of Hereford has been given the $50 Panhellenic Scholarship Award. This is the second year Panhellenic has awarded the scholarship.

The Panhellenic Council is an association of representatives from various sororities on campus. Miss Zinser was chosen from among 8 nominees by women from the Amarillo City Panhellenic.

Selection criteria, rather than emphasizing grades, were the girl's contribution to Panhellenic, her sorority and the Greeks in general.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zinser, Jr., of Route 5, Hereford.

A member of Chi Omega sorority. Miss Zinser has served as president of the WTSU Panhellenic Council as well as junior and senior delegates. She was elected to positions of freshman and sophomore senator in student government, and to the Senate Rules Committee. Miss Zinser is a member of Young Democrats and the Accounting Club, and is active in intramurals.

Young Eagles Downed 66-64 By 'Rock

Canyon's young Eagles, downed substantially last week end by Borger but only nudged out by Caprock Tuesday night, go against the Hereford Whitefaces Friday night for their fourth game of the season.

The Eagles, who narrowly missed a win over Caprock in an Amarillo tilt, will carry two sophomore, one junior and two senior starters into the Whiteface game.

Game time is 8 p.m. in the CHS fieldhouse.

"Hereford is not as strong as they were last year," Coach B.B. Kendrick said of the Friday outing. "They have two starters back and a kid from the junior varsity."

The Whitefaces will start a taller set, though, than the Eagles with a 6-4 and a 6-5 man underneath.

The Eagles hope to rebound from early season jitters to beat the Whitefaces.

Tuesday night, Caprock edged Canyon by a 66-64 margin.

The Eagles trailed throughout the game, holding a 14-12 deficit at the end of the first stanza, a 31-28 deficit at the half and a third quarter lack of 49-45.

The Eagles were behind by only two points with 10 seconds remaining in the game, but were unable to turn a possession into a score and turned the ball over the Longhorns for a sure-fire win.

"Inexperience is hurting us," Kendrick said. He'd anticipated problems with his starters, most of whom haven't seen varsity action before.

"But, I think they're playing better than I expected so far," he said. "We just have some young kids who have to learn to play when the game's tight."

The Caprock score was actually a respectable comeback for an Eagle team downed by a whopping 72-38 margin by Borger last week end.

"We didn't evey try," Kendrick said. "They're not 30 points better than we are."

In the Caprock game, Lynn Wright scored 26 points for the Eagles followed by Ken Cooper with 12. Wright and John Johnson led with rebounds with 13 each. The Eagles had 47 rebounds during the night compared to 53 for the Longhorns.

The Eagles take on Friona next Tuesday night in a home game.

Dance Show Tonite Will Benefit Fund

An evening of song and dance will begin at 7:30 p.m. today at the Canyon High School auditorium to benefit the Kelly Forehand fund.

McLean and Co. of Amarillo is sponsoring the affair. Tickets are $1 at the door.

Forehand was injured during a Canyon High football game in September and is recuperating from a broken neck.

Fred Grona of Canyon, has been named president of the "O" Club at Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Okla. The club is for athletes who have lettered in football, basketball, baseball, track, golf or tennis.

Six Local Students In Biology Society

Six West Texas State University students from Canyon were in the 23-member pledge class recently initiated into the Delta Xi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, the National Biology Honor Society.

Qualifications for entering the organization, according to chapter sponsor Charles Wright, WTSU associate professor of biology, are that biology be one of the student's major areas of study, completion of 45 semester hours of college work, a grade point average of 1.5 on a 3.0 scale, completion of three biology courses with enrollment in a fourth and a 2.0 gpa in those courses.

The students initiated at the semi-annual banquet held in Amarillo heard Dr. Alfred Schram of the WTSU Chemistry Department speak on "Nutrition." A $100 scholarship was given to Mrs. Dina Fite, chapter vice-president, of 1811-B 1st Ave. in Canyon. Jan Phillips of Amarillo was named as best pledge.

West Texas State students from Canyon initiated were John M. Bryan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Manley of 203 28th Street; Steven Christiansen of 405 4th Ave.; Pat Fite of 1811-B 1st Ave.; Jon J. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Green of 2515 6th Ave.; Kimberlyn Harris, daughter of James R. Harris of 1300 7th Ave.; and Benny Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Richardson of 1102 8th Ave.

Fall Banquet Initiation Set For Sorority

Delta Beta Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority at West Texas State University will have its fall banquet Thursday, Dec. 5, at Goodner's Steak House in Amarillo at 8:30 p.m.

The banquet will follow a membership initiation ceremony for the chapter's pledges to be held at Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the WTSU campus.

Founded in 1952, Gamma Sigma Sigma is the largest women's service sorority in the United States. At present there are over 150 undergraduate and alumnae chapters and colonies dedicated to the ideals of service, friendship, and equality. The requirement for membership is willingness to give volunteer service to school, community, and nation. The organization's national project is working in public health.

Service projects the chapter has completed in the fall semester include manning the polls at student elections; weighing in wood for the Homecoming Bonfire; helping to raise money for the Kelly Forehand Fund through a bake sale; manning the sign-up booths for a blood drive; helping with the annual Multiple Sclerosis Bowling Tournament held at the Amarillo bowling alleys; collecting money for a WT student struck suddenly with paralysis; going to the Amarillo Children's Home to visit; and visiting the patients at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Amarillo.

At the banquet, several awards will be presented, among them being the "Best Pledge" and the "Best Member" award. Special guests for the banquet will be Delta Beta Chapter Advisors, Miss Saundra Meek and Miss Allene Stovall, and Mrs. Shirley Harrold, Delta Beta Chapter Aide.

Consultants Inc., in Dallas, said his proposal along with county concern over the problem apparently "died on the vine."

He said the warning he issued more than a year ago is still valid and will remain so for the county.

Dr. G. Mason Kahn, director of the Amarillo bi-city-county health unit, one of the officials who met with commissioners in 1973, said this week he knows of nothing the county has done to solve the bore-hole problem.

"I think they satisfied themselves there's no problem," he said.

James Wilson of the Texas Water Quality Board's district Amarillo officer, another of the officials who met with the county, said he understands the county chose to take no action on the situation.

If the county chose to take no action, however, the TWQB has adopted the same stance.

"I think the water quality board has felt for many years that in local problems, local governments should handle it," he said. "We should not come in unless we know it's harming the water of the state."

There is no evidence, he said, that the bore-holes are polluting the water and it would be an expensive process to provide such evidence.

Likewise, Wilson said he has received no complaints in more than a year about bore-hole drilling in the county.

Nevertheless, it appears the drilling of bore-holes is against state law.

Dick Whittington, assistant director of the TWQB Austin office, said the law prohibits the use of injection wells and that before such a well can be drilled permits must be issued by the board. The board would not, however, issue such a permit if sought.

"When you get to implementation (of the law)," he said, "it's rather difficult. If somebody goes out and puts in a mobile home park and drills a bore-hole, it'd be hard to tell."

He said enforcement is virtually impossible, and advocated passage of a law which would prohibit drillers from drilling bore-hole type wells.

In fact, enforcement appears to be the problem county commissioners ran into in discussions of what to do about bore-holes.

"There's not much we can do about it," County Judge Woody Pond said.

He said he has urged developers to use septic tanks rather than bore-holes.

"Who's going to enforce it?" he asked. "As far as protection for our own people in our own county, we should encourage them and attempt to see the laws are obeyed. For the people's own protection they should have the proper type of sewage system."

Pond said the county is simply not given the authority or power by the Texas constitution to deal effectively with enforcement of state law.

According to News reports from a year ago, State Health Department officials threatened to take over enforcement of the law if the county failed to do so.

However, Austin officials Monday disavowed knowledge of the threat and referred The News to the water quality board.

Apparently, the commissioners' original action of allowing drillers to regulate themselves is working to an extent.

Jim Whitney of Amarillo Drilling Co. said this week the drillers are governing themselves.

He said the drillers are motivated to regulate themselves by the fact that if they drill a bore-hole which does pollute underground water they can expect to go out of business.

"For one hole why would we sacrifice 25 years of business?" he asked. "I had a call the day before yesterday and his water table was at 40 feet and there's no way I'd touch that."

Whitney said he's declined in many cases to drill bore-holes for county residents.

the taxes so generated.

She pointed out that unlike the real property tax roll, the automobile roll must be prepared annually virtually from scratch. On real property, the roll need be only updated.

For the current year, the tax roll contains 20,491 automobile items and only 25,711 real property items. Mrs. Bruse said it takes almost as much manpower to place an auto on the roll as it does for a real property item.

"I've always said it's the most expensive way to raise tax money," she said, noting that last spring operators spent seven hours per day for five months putting items into the computer for this year's tax roll. Seventy-five per cent of those items were automobiles.

This year, the county can hope to collect $80,485 through the taxation of cars, about 10 per cent of the total income anticipated through taxes.

While state law requires that cars be taxed, Mrs. Bruse said many cities and counties do not tax automobiles.

In other business Monday, Mrs. Bruse told commissioners her office has collected 96.9 per cent of the taxes for the 1973 roll.

County road superintendent told commissioners it will cost about $3350 per mile to caliche Hill Road in the northwestern portion of the county.

The figure was requested last week by several residents on the road, including Mrs. Fern Patterson.

The residents had asked that figures be provided for the surfacing of four miles of the road.

The $3350 figure includes cost of caliche, cost of hauling the material to the road, cost to lay down the caliche, cost of gasoline, and man hours spent.

Commissioners also signed a new policy requiring that if county residents living in an isolated area want their road paved or caliched, the county will do the work and charge the residents for the service. Commissioners had passed the policy last week.

Commissioners noted that a public hearing could be called on the design and other aspects of a new farm-to-market road which will extend Hunsley Road north of Canyon from U.S. 87 to Washington Street.

They okayed a trip to Austin Sunday through Tuesday for Mrs. Bruse and two tax office employees to attend a conference on taxes sponsored by the LBJ School of Public Affairs, the Texas Municipal League and the Texas Association of Assessing Officer.

Tex Watson talks about
The West Texas Gas Supply

You hear a great deal about the competition for the natural gas in West Texas these days. It is rightfully a matter of interest and concern to every citizen of this area. It has some serious implications.

Natural gas has been an important factor in building West Texas and will continue to be. Most of the businesses and industries in our area depend, directly or indirectly, on a continuing supply of natural gas. A lot of people's jobs depend on it. So, we must see that they have it.

We will have to pay more for it than in the past . . . the competition for gas has never been so fierce. But by working together, and without outside interference, we'll have the gas energy we need today and in the future. Gas will still be your best energy buy.

CHS Building Trades Class In Action

Building Class Starts New House

By LEONARD KENT

This week the building trades classes at Canyon High School began their work toward construction of a new house to be located at 1206 12th Street.

Harold Hagemeier, instructor of the classes, stated that the split-level brick house will have approximately 1850 square feet of living area. The total electric house will have three bedrooms, two baths and double garage. The den and living room combination will have a 16-foot cathedral ceiling and fireplace.

Members of the class will participate in all phases of the construction with exception of the fireplace, plumbing and electrical work.

Twelve students are enrolled in each of the two building trades classes. The class members attend building trades for three consecutive periods each day, either a morning or afternoon session.

The purpose of building trades is to develop basic manipulative skills, safety judgment and practices, proper work habits and attitudes, and an appreciation for the world of work with the purposes of preparing students for employment in the construction industry.

Class members have just completed two 24 x 32 foot portable classrooms. These buildings will soon be located at one of the elementary schools to provide additional classroom space.

In previous years building trades students, under Hagemeier's direction, have constructed two other residential structures which are now occupied by Canyon families.

St. Nick Expected At Faculty Meeting

After a sober examination of "Economic Depression: Then and Now" by two guest speakers, St. Nicholas is scheduled to put in an appearance at the West Texas State University Interdisciplinary meeting, at 6:30 p.m. today at the Episcopal Center.

Guest speakers will be Dr. James Rees of the University of Oklahoma economics faculty and Donald McCoy of the University of Kansas faculty. Dr. Mary Sheldon of the WTSU sociology department will lead the discussion session to follow the lectures.

Dr. Eduard Schmutzer, founder and director of the interdisciplinary programs, announced that a special commemoration of St. Nicholas Day, which is celebrated on Dec. 6 throughout Europe, will be part of the evening program.

Schmutzer, a native of Holland, says that in that country the giving of gifts is associated with St. Nicholas and not the American Santa Claus. The eve of St. Nicholas Day is the time when anonymous gifts accompanied by small poems are left on the doorsteps of the needy. Christmas, he says, is honored as a purely religious holiday, he added.

A WTSU drama student will assume the bishop's mantle of St. Nick and enact the traditional gift-giving ceremony at the meeting, Schmutzer said.

According to custom, St. Nicholas keeps a big golden book in which deeds of humans are kept on "a kind of debit and credit system" of accounting, Schmutzer said. It is on St. Nicholas Day that the saint is said to consult his book, bestowing gifts upon each according to his works.

Christmas Concert

Canyon High School's band and choir departments are making plans for two holiday concerts to be held for the public.

The band's program has been scheduled for December 12 at 7:30 p.m. under the direction of J. W. King, band director.

Tom Jennings, choir director, will present the CHS choirs in concert December 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Reception Held For Couple

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Pertusa was held Friday evening, November 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Bush at 2005 3rd Avenue in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Pertusa were married in September, 1974, and are residing in Austin where both are students at the University of Texas. Mrs. Pertusa, the former Martha Bassett, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bassett of 3705 Fleetwood, Amarillo and is a bi-lingual student seeking a degree as a civil engineer.

The couple met while Mrs. Pertusa was a student at the University of Barcelona in Spain. He was involved in a Customs Brokerage Agency in Barcelona and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose' Mari'a Pertusa of Ali Cante, Spain. Presently the bridegroom is employed with Stieffer Construction Company in Austin while studying English at the University of Texas.

A Thanksgiving motif was used in decorating for the reception in Canyon Friday with the refreshment table featuring an orange floral centerpiece and silver service. Co-hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kirkpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waugh and Mrs. Mildred Wallis.

Christmas Caroling Begins WT's Holiday

Christmas will come to the campus of West Texas State University Sunday evening as various organizations lift their voices in "carols of the season" and progress to the steps of the Cornette Library for a ceremonial carol of lights, according to Jim Holston.

A brass trombone section will provide background selections for the program which this year will feature the lighting of candles as the story of the nativity is read by Monica Aderle.

Randy Hoover is scheduled to begin the Christmas season on campus with a talk at 8 p.m.

Band Parents Selling Goodies

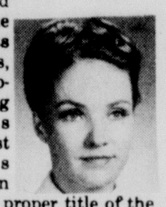
By TROYCE MULHERIN

Greetings:

SURE AM GLAD turkey Day comes only once a year. If the ol' table were loaded like that any more often, we would all weigh way too much.

Phyllis Hicks became 29 on the 29th, too. Happy birthday, Phyllis. (She said "29 on the 29th." Believe what you want).

Incidentally, on Thanksgiving Day, I gave thanks for patient, kind and forgiving friends. (Read this part, too, Phyllis).



Phyllis and Johnny are the proud parents of Sheila Hicks, who just happened to bring five ribbons home from last week end's swim meet in Lubbock. The proper title of the event is the Lubbock Thanksgiving Invitational Swim Meet, and same was won by Amarillo's Aquatic Club!

Sheila won fourth place ribbons in the 100 breast stroke, the 50 free stroke, and in the 200 free stroke. She won fifth place in the 100 free and sixth place in the 100 back stroke!

Great goin' little lady; and, we wish you even more wins in the January competition meet!

A GET WELL to Rhenea Ballard, who is home recovering from surgery. Didn't even know Rhenea was ailing 'til best friend and I visited "Flowers by Rhenea" last Sunday during our annual tour of the floral houses, and visited with Sue. Get well soon!

THE CANYON BAND Parents Association has a lot to offer this Christmas season. To be exact, the association has some more of that scrumptious paper, ribbons, and bowmakers for sale for pretty package making.

The paper is $1.50 a roll and comes in metalics, lots of different and bright colors. The metalics measure 26 inches by 180 inches. (This will cover a lot of presents!). The association has some, not much, of the solid white slick wrapping paper, so call in early for this particular kind.

The ribbon cost is $1.25, for a roll measuring seven-eights inches by 30 yards. The ribbon also comes in some really perky, pretty colors.

The bowmakers will cost a lowly dollar. Extra pins are available, cheap. (As of this time the absolutely correct cost was not immediately available to yours truly; but, the person you call for your handy, dandy bowmaker can give you this info).

Lots of cookbooks are still available for $2.00 each. (Give one to your mother-in-law for Christmas). (Just jesting — just jesting).

The band people also have some white coffee mugs, bearing the honorable name of the Canyon Eagles thereon, for sale for 35 cents each.

All these goodies are on display and for sale at The Little Gallery in Canyon. This is Ann Palmer's place. For those who are unable to drive to Canyon to stock up on these really good bargains, a quick call to Sherrie Cates at 355-2080, or to Pat Seth at 355-6929 is the answer. Either one or both of these ladies will be glad to take your order and see that same is delivered to you.

THE BAND PARENTS Club's annual Community Birthday Calendar is out and delivered. Real nice, too. This is the primary fund raising activity for the bands, and the proceeds from the sale of these calendars enables the bands to benefit from many activities which are certainly worthwhile for the students and the community.

Of course, it's too late now to get somebody special listed as far as birthdays are concerned for this year. But, it's not too late to acquire one of the little jewels for your very own.

The band calendar is really great for the snoopy and the curious! Lots of good info appears therein. Also, the printer obligingly left plenty of space for the owner of one of the dandys to fill in his/her personal activities and appointments.

Oh, yeah, it costs a $1.50, and well worth it. Call Sherrie or Pat for one of these, too. (Plan on getting you and yours listed next year — the drive starts in September).

* * *

ONE LAST, BUT certainly not least, band news item: Another Big Bingo Night is set for Jan. 3rd. At 7:30 p.m. at the Bull Barn in Canyon.

Attendees will be treated to some great German concert music and will have a chance at some really grand prizes.

Band parents will also have homemade sliced pie and cake and coffee for sale for your munching pleasure. Don't try to go — just go! Have some family-type fun and support a honest-to-goodness hard working, deserving group.

GENE HOWE'S REPRESENTATIVES to Amarillo Area Council enjoyed a very pleasant (in other words — there were lots of goodies to eat) Christmas Tea last Monday at the School Administration Building in Amarillo.

Convention delegates gave a resume' of convention activities during the short, short business meeting preceding such tea. Also approved during such meeting was the prospect of the Area Council and local PTA units sponsoring a "Kids Day at the Matinee." This will encompass a series of 10 movies with admission being $3 for 10 passes! Good deal. More later.

The Chief, Luther Lawless, Ernestine Harp, Karolyn Farmer, Sandy Wait and yours truly did our school proud by actively participating in the goody eating.

We got to say "Hi" to Jo Crump, Aurelia Currie, and Marge Storseth, all past presidents of the council. District 8 president, Bill Lee, took time out from his busy schedule to join in on the festivities.

See that uncomfortable appearing lady over there in the long red skirt — the one with the spilled punch on her red skirt — the red skirt held together at the waist with a huge safety pin (undone) — the lady who doesn't know that her knee-high stockings are now only ankle high — the one with the white slip which has no hem? — Guess who she is . . .

Thanks for the use of the hall.

Graveside Rites In Dallas For E. A. Sibley

Graveside services for E. A. Sibley, 70, were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, December 4, at Laurel Land Memorial Park in Dallas with Rev. Craig Bellah, a former resident of Canyon and pastor of Crestview Baptist Church in Dallas, officiating.

Mr. Sibley died early Monday at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. He was born May 23, 1904 in Jack County, Texas and was raised in the Clarendon area. He moved to Canyon two years ago when he married Jewell Bolton on July 8, 1972 in Amarillo.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Canyon, a veteran of World War I and before his retirement had been a dock foreman for ICX in Dallas over 30 years.

Family services were held at LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Canyon on Tuesday at 10 a.m. with Rev. Merle Weathers, pastor of Highland Baptist in Amarillo, officiating. Funeral arrangements were handled by LaGrone Funeral Home of Canyon and the family has asked that memorial gifts go to a favorite charity in memory of Euell Albert Sibley.

Surviving are his widow, Jewell, of 1708 6th Avenue; four brothers, Rev. J. M. Sibley of Beeville, Texas, W. S. Sibley and H. E. Sibley, both of Amarillo, and Guy Sibley of Clarendon; two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Stephenson of Amarillo and Mrs. Roxie Lewis of Roaring Springs, Texas; three step-daughters, Mrs. Nancy Cunningham of Monte Vista, Colorado, Mrs. Ruth Ann Kauffman of Duncanville, Texas' and Mrs. Sue Miller of Richardson, Texas; and nine step-grandchildren.

Firemen Answer 11 Alarms Here

Canyon volunteer firemen answered 11 alarms to fight six building fires inside and outside Canyon during November.

They answered 16 alarms for 7 building fires during November of 1973. So far this year, the firemen have responded to 108 alarms, 20 city building fires and 7 county building fires. They have also fought 56 non-building fires in the city and in the county outside the city limits.

Seventy-eight volunteers reported for the fires last month and spent 105 man-hours fighting the blazes.

Damages within the city due to fire in November totalled $5200. Estimated losses due to fires in the county during the month were $15,000.

For the year to date, fire has caused total damage of $140,050 to property within the city and in the county outside the city.

Early Mailing Urged Here

Canyon Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland urged local residents this week to begin mailing their Christmas gifts and cards early enough to avoid the disappointment if they are not delivered by the holiday season.

He issued the following schedule for mailing items during the Christmas rush:

*Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed now.

*Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 10.

*The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

*Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than December 8. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be in the mail by December 15.

The postmaster also emphasized the importance of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail. ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster. A return address insures that mail that can't be delivered because of an illegible or incomplete address will be returned to the sender.

"A return address might not seem very important," Davis noted, "but last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at twenty-five cents, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelopes had contained a return address."

'The Little Store' Offers Gift Items Made By Students

"The Little Store" at Rex Reeves Elementary School is again this year offering a variety of gift items according to Dorothy Lowry, teacher and storekeeper.

A special project this year has been quilling craft plaques featuring owls, butterflies and peacocks. Although the students have several plaques on hand, special orders will also be taken for the holiday season.

Other craft projects for sale at the school's store are hot pads, hot mats, a variety of beadwork and numerous other gift items. The store is open during regular school hours.

Citizens To Meet

Canyon's Senior Citizens will meet this week on Thursday evening, December 5, at 6:30 p.m. for a covered dish supper at the Canyon Community Center.

The supper will be followed with a variety of games for those attending. Any senior citizen, age 55 and up, is invited to participate in the activities of the group by attending any weekly meeting.

THANKSGIVING DAY, JUDY Shipman and I pooled our dinners. A week earlier we had thought we just might be having our holiday in the field with a combine for a centerpiece.

Judy and Gene and their Raphe and Mandi, Gracie and Frank Tirey, Oma Hayes, J.J. Lane, and our Sheri, Ken, J.T. and Angelique ate with Tom and me.

We could have gotten all them around my dinner table if we had crowded, but Mandi and Angelique wanted to eat at the card table and Sheri rode "herd" on them.

We enjoyed dinner and football and then we did go to the field. I told the Sunday School class that the pilgrims celebrated when they had harvested their crops and I'd like to have put it off until we had ours in.

THE YOUTH OF Happy need something constructive to do. Stealing the letters off the white granite monument in Stephenson Park — again and again — tearing up a church parking lot and finally destroying a part of the church itself, breaking windows, etc. at the Jaycee Hall, and vandalism over the town in general, has exceeded any activity that might be labeled "childish pranks."

We need both PARENT and LAW enforcement in Happy. Where are your children every night of the week?

* * *

DID YOU KNOW that three weeks from today will be the day after Christmas?

See ya!

Thanksgiving Holidays Enjoyed By All Here

By DORIS McKEE

THANKSGIVING HAS COME and gone, but we will remember it for a while. The weather sure changed and gave us a sample of what is yet to come.

* * *

WE HAD THANKSGIVING dinner at the Winfred Dollar home in Amarillo. It was a good size family get together. Those attending were Mrs. E. M. Weaver of Lubbock (my mother), R. H. Weaver (my brother) and his family, the Junior Hix family, all of Denver City, Ruby and Bill Patterson, and Ethel and Donald Dollar all of Amarillo. There was so much food that it was impossible to try everything. Everyone had a real enjoyable time.

* * *

ALBERT AND KATIE Rinne spent Thanksgiving at home but, Hody and Robin (Katie's sister) Porterfield and their son Eric spent the day with them.

* * *

JAMES AND SHARON Jones and the family went to Hereford, to Sharon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Newman. Everyone had a good time there.

* * *

KENNETH AND LINDA Shaffer took their boys and went to Shawnee, Okla. to a big family get together. Seems there was a big attraction there. It was a set of twin boys, who were only three weeks old. They belong to one of Kenneth's sisters. Kenneth also has a sister who lives in Amarillo, who couldn't attend this get together due to the very recent arrival of a baby boy. Seems all those who did attend had a wonderful time.

* * *

MRS. MORSE (GRANNY) Huddleston, Vera and Jamie Huddleston and a girl friend of Jamie's went to Weatherford and Stephensville over the holiday. Granny said it sure was a long trip, due to all those stops they had to make. They visited with Barney Swain, Granny's brother and her sister, Juanita Mitchell. Granny said all in all it was a real gas. Oh yes, she did say they gave her a Fondue party, but she didn't let them know it was her first.

* * *

DALE, PEARL AND Dusty West went to Roff, Okla. for the holiday. They had a big family get together at Pearl's mother's, Mrs. J. L. Hackworth's. Ruby Williams and Opal Hill (Pearl's sisters), Leroy Hackworth (Pearl's brother) and his wife of Oklahoma City, Olan Crawford of Ponca City (brother-in-law), a couple of nephews and their families, the Leon Williams' of Honey Grove, Tex. and the Raymond Hills of Okmulgee, Okla., also a niece Doris Guinn of Cushing, Okla. and the Johnnie Southerlands of Ada, Okla., all attended and everyone had a good time. Boy, when Pearl goes to Oklahoma she really causes a crowd.

* * *

DAVID AND EARLINE Benham and the girls spent the holiday in Andrews, Tex. with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Goff, Earline's folks. Then over the weekend they had house guests from Denver, Colo., David's brother and his wife, Jim and Mary Benham. Seems everyone had a nice visit.

* * *

LARRY AND NORMA Weeter went to Phillips to Norma's folks, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Langley. They had a real nice family get together with Jim and Judy (Norma's sister) Darrell and family of Houston and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sullivan from Nashville, Ark. all present. It's always nice to get together with family and friends.

* * *

THE WRESTLING TEAMS had a holiday also. Guess they will be back hard at it this week. The wrestling tournament will be coming up next week, I believe.

SEEMS KATHY AND Ira Burgan attended a very warm and wonderful celebration this past weekend. It was the 60th wedding anniversary of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Collins. They had a candlelighting service. There are seven grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Also to make it seem more spectacular there were four generations present. I think this was just marvelous. Who knows, just maybe they'll make seventy-five and wouldn't that be grand.

DALE WEST WAS on vacation all last week. Last Monday night he and Pearl invited Pat and Tex Reed over for a fried chicken dinner. Pearl sent Dale to Underwood's for the meal, while she set the table in her best paperware, and turned on the electric lights.

On Tuesday night Tex and Pat invited Pearl, Dale and Dusty over to their place for dinner. Pearl said it was a delicious meal cooked and served by Pat in her best. A touch of atmosphere was added, as the meal was served and eaten by candlelight. These two couples really do enjoy each other and have lots of good times.

WAS TALKING TO Jonnie Robertson on Monday. She had just brought Floyd's father, Mr. Jack Robertson, to their house from the hospital. He is doing nicely since his surgery and hopefully will be up and around shortly.

* * *

JOE DALE STEWART entered the hospital on Monday. He was to have some surgery. Hope all goes well and he is up and at it real soon.

* * *

SEEMS EUNICE RINEHART has quite a schedule to hold up. She put Barney in Neblett Hospital last Saturday. They are running tests and X-rays on him. Hope they can find his problem and get it all taken care of right away.

* * *

JON AND DIANA Hoffman have bought the doublewide and the lot at 136 Loma Linda. They bought it from Johnny Richardson who has now moved to Albuquerque, N.M. They are planning to rent the mobile home they lived in. Diana's grandparents Charles and Faye Diehl who are living with the Hoffmans are doing well and like it here okay.

* * *

WELL, CHRISTMAS IS just 18 days away, and I think it would be great if everyone would decorate some for it. We could really make the park pretty, if everyone would try. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lawler of 112 La Fiesta have lights up and you can get a Christmas feeling at night as you go by. Come on let's put Siesta in view this Christmas season.

* * *

NORMA WEETER WON a Christmas tree on the KDJW contest on Monday. That's real nice and it's good she hadn't already bought one.

* * *

PEARL WEST IS having a Christmas Tupperware party this Friday night, Dec. 6 at 7:30 p.m. She wants to invite any of you ladies who would like, to come. Her address is 209 Loma Linda. Pearl throws a real good party and her house is decorated to the hilt. Come on over and have some fun with us.

* * *

BY THE WAY a special notice to any readers I might have across the Expressway. If you have news, I'll be happy to put it in my column anytime. Just give me a call.

Guess I had better sign off for this week. Keep on reading.

Thought for this week: "Take one teaspoon of joy, One tablespoon of gaiety, One cup of love, A dash of laughter, Mix well and get a houseful of Christmas Spirit."

See Ya.
